Memorandum of Understanding between EGI.eu and ASGC

BACKGROUND

The Stichting European Grid Initiative Foundation (hereafter referred to as “EGI.eu”) has been created under the Dutch law with the mission to create and maintain a pan-European Grid Infrastructure in collaboration with its Participants i.e. the National Grid Initiatives (NGIs) and Associated participants (e.g. European International Research Organisations - EIROs) in order to guarantee the long-term availability of a generic e-infrastructure for all European research communities and their international collaborators. In its role of coordinating grid activities between European NGIs EGI.eu will: 1) operate a secure integrated production grid infrastructure that seamlessly federates resources from providers around Europe; 2) coordinate the support of the research communities using the European infrastructure coordinated by EGI.eu; 3) work with software providers within Europe and worldwide to provide high-quality innovative software solutions that deliver the capability required by our user communities; 4) ensure the development of EGI.eu through the coordination and participation in collaborative research projects that bring innovation to European Distributed Computing Infrastructures (DCIs). A summary of EGI.eu is attached as Annex 1.

The Asia Pacific Grid Initiative (hereafter referred to as "APGI") is coordinated by Academia Sinica Grid Computing Centre (ASGC) that aims at ensuring the long-term sustainability of the Asia e-Infrastructure, the continuity and the enhancements of the Asia Virtual Research Communities (VRCs) using it. APGI is devoted to providing international coordination and collaboration within the region. A summary of APGI is attached as Annex 2.

Memorandum of Understanding between EGI.eu and ASGC

Annex 1 – EGI.eu Description

To support science and innovation, a lasting operational model for e-Infrastructure is needed – both for coordinating the infrastructure and for delivering integrated services that cross national borders. The objective of EGI.eu (a non-for-profit foundation established under Dutch law) is to coordinate and manage the European Grid Infrastructure (EGI) federation on behalf of its members: National Grid Initiatives (NGIs) and European International Research Organisations (EIROs) to help guarantee the long-term availability of a generic e-Infrastructure for all European research communities and their international collaborators.

Services provided by EGI.eu to the wider EGI community:

- Oversee the operations of EGI to guarantee the integration of resources from providers around Europe into a seamless and secure e-Infrastructure.
- Coordinate the support provided to EGI's user communities.
- Work with technology providers to source high-quality and innovative software solutions to answer users' requirements.
- Represent the EGI federation in the wider Distributed Computing Infrastructures (DCI) community through coordination and participation in collaborative projects.
- Coordinate the external services provided by partners in the community.
- Steer the evolution of EGI's policy and strategy development.
- Organise EGI's flagship events and publicise community's news and achievements.

The EGI.eu is supporting 'grids' of high-performance computing (HPC) and high-throughput computing (HTC) resources. EGI.eu is also ideally placed to integrate new Distributed Computing Infrastructures (DCIs) such as clouds, supercomputing networks and desktop grids, to benefit the user communities within the European Research Area.

EGI collects user requirements and provides support for the current and emerging user communities. Support is also given to the current heavy users of the infrastructure, such as high energy physics, computational chemistry and life sciences, as they move their critical services and tools from a centralised support model to one driven by their own individual communities.

The EGI community is a federation of independent national and community resource providers, whose resources support specific research communities and international collaborators both within Europe and worldwide. EGI.eu, coordinator of EGI, brings together partner institutions established within the community to provide a set of essential human and technical services that enable secure integrated access to distributed resources on behalf of the community.

The production infrastructure supports Virtual Research Communities – structured international user communities – that are grouped into specific research domains. VRCs are formally represented within EGI at both a technical and strategic level.

Annex 2 – APCI Description

The Asia Pacific Grid Initiative (APGI) is representing Asian Consortium that aims at ensuring the long-term sustainability of the Asia e-Infrastructure, the continuity and the enhancements of the Asia Virtual Research Communities (VRCs) using it. APGI is coordinated by Academia Sinica Grid Computing Centre (ASGC) and devoted to providing international coordination and collaboration within the region. The partners in APGI cooperate within the region as well as engaging in bi-lateral interactions with partners in Europe (within EGI-InSPIRE) and elsewhere in the world. As the lead partner of APGI, ASGC serves as the liaison between EGI-InSPIRE Project Office and APGI. In addition, ASGC on behalf of APGI participates in the EGI-InSPIRE Project Management Board (PMB) representing the unfunded Asia-Pacific partners. ASGC coordinates the e-Science infrastructure support and user community engagement with all the APGI partners. ASGC is operating the Asia Pacific Regional Operation Centre (APROC) to extend the EGI infrastructure in Asia Pacific region and maximise the e-Infrastructure reliability to support various e-Science user communities. APROC is in charge of site certification and also application environment verification to maintain consistent APGI regional collaboration framework as a whole. ASGC provides both first-line and second-line support to APGI member sites by the APROC framework. The reliable APGI infrastructure is enforced by Operational Level Agreement of each site and APROC services.
